MOUNTAIN GRASS A GREAT HORSE

Winthrop:—In a police horse or somewhere north of Lake Superior, while a C. P. R. train was rushing through the wilderness to the Brandon Water fair, a beautiful thoroughbred mare caught chill. All the horses in the car were carefully blanketed, hooded and bandaged with that luxury and care to be found nowhere except about great horses of the race track or the tan back ring, the most exact equivalents of the Roman colicium of old, where to ride the best is to put one on a par with an emperor himself.

Something had gone wrong. Hat she been well when she left? Had the cold Superior wind penetrated her corner of the car? Had some one forgotten some part of the essential ritual of feeding, clothing, grooming or some other of the minute details of the mysteries of service which have always been due to the very great? No one will ever know.

A happy conference was held by the attendants in the car and it was decided that nothing could be done until Winnipeg was reached on the prophetic Friday the 13th. So for three full days and three nights Mountain Grass, the pride of the Sifton stable, suffered as only a well bred animal can, racked by alternate gusts of deadly cold and choking heat. At Winnipeg she was taken off and put in the faithful care of Bill McPherson of the Manitoba Carriage company stable, in the final stages of pneumonia.

Her own veterinary R. K. Hodges was spoken to by long distance to Toronto. He listened to the symptoms and then he said: "We cannot afford to lose Mountain Grass, she is the only one of the kind. Keep her alive until I get there." He caught the first train for Winnipeg. When he saw his patient he said: "Any other horse would have died long ago, but her breeding will pull her through. And well he might say so. Her paternal grandfather was the great Spearhead, winner of the English Derby, the greatest of all races where for generations only the best have competed. Her mother's family was none the less distinguished, reaching back generation after generation clustered with great names noted for the acres of all qualities, great speed, staying power, serene and unbreakable courage.

None of her family, however ever fought a harder battle than Mountain Grass fought against the stifling death of pneumonia, and none ever went into a struggle with more stolidness or courage. A perfect patient, she took her medicine without complaint, picked up her ears every time anyone came to stroke her muzzle, forcing herself to eat three meals a day and swallow everything her doctor gave her, without complaint.

Steadily she grew worse until she was all but dead, however, she recovered miraculously. She was better and victory seemed again in sight, and everyone thought she would pull through. But it was not to be so. Midnight, she was attacked by another enemy, the dreaded colic. All through the night the doctor fought grimly until four in the morning, when she seemed to have again shown herself incapable of defeat.

She ate a few handfuls of carefully prepared food and hope revived, but no animal could stand

SIX SETS OF BROTHERS NOW PLAYING IN MAJOR LEAGUES

Six sets of brothers are with major league teams this season, and in two of the cases the brothers are playing together on the same team. One pair was broken up during the off-season, when Bob Adams was cast aside by Cincinnati and Sam Adams was released from the Cincinnati roster.

The most famous combination of course, is Paul and Lloyd Warner, at Pittsburgh, but Harvey and Gus Walker, on the Chicago grange, and Washington alone to represent the family in that company.

The Sewell duo at Cleveland was released to Richmond. Dick and Marvin Porrell decided to produce the only battery combination on the club, but the St. Louis crowd decided Marvin, the pitching end of it, needed more seasoning and so signed with Milwaukee. Walter of Cleveland, however, will continue to maintain representation for the Sewells in the big league.

B. C. TEACHERS' SALARIES TO BE LIMITED BY ACT

Complete readjustment of school teachers' salaries throughout British Columbia is to be brought about by drastic amendments to the Public Schools Act, providing that:

1. The Provincial Government set up a standard schedule of salaries for all classes and grades of teachers.
2. All city and district municipal school districts will be graded into sub-classes having regard to population and other considerations.
3. Government grants to teach salaries will consist of fixed percentages of the standard schedule, not of the actual salary.
4. Salaries in excess of the standard schedule may not be paid by any school board without express permission of the city or municipal council.

It is argued that this will bring about greater uniformity in teacher salaries and in the provincial government grants, and would tend to protect the teacher in small school districts from being exploited by parsimonious trustees and protect the taxpayers from school boards which desire to pay excessive salaries.

In the strain. Thirteen days an aching standing up, thirteen nights of sleepless and nights of torture. It was written that she must that night taste her first death. One hour later, Mountain Grass lay down, stretched herself out like a log, and peacefully breathed some other world where the soul

HEARD ON THE STREET

"Glad, did you go to your brother's meeting last night?"
"No, sir; we didn't have time."

"How was that?"
"And all powerful invincible Lord Supreme Unconquerable I estimate you get beat up by me."

"The horse you said me in a time machine. But I can't get him to and his head up."
"A layout? No, it's because of his pride. He'll hold it up as soon as he's paid for."

"My wife's sense of humor is bad, one other day I heard a good conversation and decided to catch her on it."

"Why are men like that?"
"I don't know. I just know that I don't judge all men by your self, as her meanings are."

"I saw a woman of French descent who is in the current. 'Alas! she is a mother in England and sees out to work for many months and then she is living on the job. He married one day. 'Do you know, I had an idea of working some days ago which would have given me five hundred dollars a week, and I am getting from the debt, but after giving it through reflection I preferred to remain independent.'"

"Two Negro soldiers were discussing the matter of their company's bugles. Said one: 'Well, when that boy of yours calls, it's some a week like de Boston Symphony play de house.'"

"The second soldier snorted. 'Brother,' he said, 'you ain't got no bugle at all. When knowabout Jones wakes his life around, he bugle and says, 'mash all, I look down at mash beans and I see Strawberry, behave! You is hickie' de whipped cream out de plate.'"

"Mandy. I'm sorry to tell you said Tony Grogan 'that the person who married you to Abbeon Johnson was a fake and your marriage isn't legal.'"

"Man Grogan, you is gone plumb crazy? I give you five dollars a month. Fake? Wish to goodness it was."

Herb Ellis was making a visit to a girl who lived in the country. As they were walking through the field, they noticed a cow and calf rubbing noses in hostile love. "The sight of that," makes me want to do the same thing," said Herb.

"You ahead," she replied, "it's father's cow."

Bliss: "What's that I hear Hiram about your fired man falling off the roof when he was shingling the barn last week?"

Hiram: "Yah, he fell in a barrel of turpentine."

Bliss: "Did it hurt him much?"
Hiram: "Don't know, they ain't caught him yet."

Wife: "Remember it is the tenth anniversary of our wedding, shall I kill a turkey?"
Husband: "Why, the poor bird is not to blame for it."

Not long ago there was a fire in a Jewish merchant's establishment. The assessor came around to have a look in the book. The first question, fire start?" was the first question.

WELL, replied the Jew, "it may have been the electric light, or it may have been the unaccountable light." "Yes, said the assessor, "and it may have been the Israelites."

Ole Olson, truckwheeler, was testifying after a head on collision. "You say thundered the attorney at ten o'clock that night you were walking towards the crossing, and you saw number four coming down the track at 40 miles an hour?"

"Yah," said Ole.
"And you looked behind and you saw No 2 coming up the track at 40 miles an hour?"

"Yah," said Ole.
"Well, what did you do then?"

"Yah, I got off the track."
"Well, but what did you do?"

"Well, I saw myself, I saw the base cell of a way to run a railroad."
